

SPEAKER · EDUCATOR · RESEARCHER

Micheal McGee

Equity in education, trauma across the lifespan and brain-based teaching

Founder of Doc Lobe Teaching, Learning, and Research Firm; adjunct professor of psychology at Bowie State University, including its prison education program; doctoral student in Educational Leadership (Ed.D. expected Fall 2027). Featured in the American Psychological Association's Student Researchers of Color Spotlight. More than 20 years leading education and human services programs.

Keynotes | Workshops | Faculty development | Panels | In person or virtual

Signature talks

Equality vs. Equity: Closing the Gap in American Education
Why equal treatment hasn't produced equal outcomes, and leadership moves that turn equity into results.

Before Birth: Fetal Psychological Development and the Mother's Traumatic Stress Prenatal stress, generational trauma and the community supports that interrupt the cycle.

Making the Brain Visible: 3D, Culturally Relevant Teaching
Hands-on faculty development with interactive 3D brain lessons, games and teaching packets.

Trauma, Stress and Learning: What Educators Need to Know
How stress and trauma affect learning, and trauma-informed classroom and campus practices.

Teaching Behind the Walls: Equity-Centered Prison Education
Holding the same outcomes inside and outside, and teaching without internet access.

Measuring What Matters: Culturally Responsive Assessment and Career Counseling
Culturally responsive instruments, McGee's Career Personality Multicultural Approach and research online or offline.

Where Micheal has spoken

- Washington, D.C. International Academic Forum on Education, Walter E. Washington Convention Center (2025)
- South Africa NAAAS International Conference in Cape Town, Johannesburg (University of Johannesburg) and Pretoria (University of South Africa) (2023)
- Austin, Texas NAAAS National Research Conference (2023)
- Maryland Maryland Counseling Association Annual Conference (2020, 2021)

Recognition

- APA Student Researchers of Color Spotlight (2022)
- White House HBCU Scholars Recognition Initiative (2021)
- Maryland Counseling Association Presidential Certificate of Merit (2023)

Formats

Keynotes (30–60 min), workshops (60–180 min), panels and faculty development days. Fees by quote; reduced rates for community colleges, nonprofits and correctional education.

Book Micheal
doclobe.com/speaking

doclobe23@gmail.com · 301-281-1756
9 a.m.–5 p.m. ET